Thought For The Week – from Caroline

TROUBLES DO NOT HAVE THE LAST WORD

Psalm 71:20-21

Though you have made me see troubles, many and bitter, you will restore my life again; from the depths of the earth you will again bring me up. You will increase my honour and comfort me once more.

Your troubles will not last forever. In the midst of troubles, there is hope: "You will restore my life again; from the depths of the earth you will again bring me up. You will increase my honour and comfort me once more."

God will use your troubles for good. He will shape your character through them. As a result, he will increase your honour. He will comfort you through them so that you can comfort others (2 Corinthians 1:4).

Prayer:

Lord, thank you that though I may see troubles many and bitter, you promise to restore my life again. I praise you for your faithfulness.

Lord, thank you that there is no trouble that this life can bring from which you do not rescue me, ultimately with eternal life in your presence. Thank you that, in the middle of my troubles, I can pray to you and be refreshed by the presence of God (Acts 3:19).

This is an excerpt from Nicky Gumbel's commentary on Psalm 71, Day 161 in Bible In One Year.
